Commander's Dispatch

The purpose of this Magazine is to provide interesting articles about the Revolutionary War and information regarding the activities of your chapter and/or state color guards

It's difficult for me to come to the realization that in a few short months my tenure as the National Society SAR Color Guard Commander will come to an end. It's been a fantastic two years experience and honor to have served as your Commander.

In Greenville, South Carolina the 2014 Congress was a great success for the Color Guard and the National Society. The Color Guard fielded 84 Guardsman in uniform for the Memorial Service.

I hope to see all of you again during our National Congress in Louisville in 2015. Please plan on attending the Color Guard breakfast, the Sunday Memorial Service as well as the Opening Ceremonies on Monday.

NSSAR Color Guard Comander Michael Radcliff

Thank you all again for everything you do for our Country and the SAR. Lastly, endeavor to make participating in the SAR Color Guard a fun and rewarding experience.

Your humble Servant,
Michael "Mike" J. Radcliff
National Color Guard Commander

From the Adjutant

Mark C Anthony

While the role of the Commander and Vice Commander of the National Color Guard is understood, the role of the Adjutant(s) is less so. The role of the adjutant in a military organization is to perform the administrative duties to make the unit function efficiently. Additional duties include assisting the commanding officer for awards ceremonies and other ceremonial functions.

Within the NSSAR Color Guard, there can be either one or two adjutants selected by National Commander. Most recently, there have been two adjutants who serve to take attendance at National meetings and take minutes at committee meetings. They have also been tasked with communicating marching orders from either the Commander or Vice Commander, issuing flags and making sure the Color Guard is properly attired (this means no medals or neck ribbons being worn) at National meetings and events.

In the absence of the National Commander and Vice Commander, the command of the Color Guard at National meetings and events devolves to them as the ranking National Color Guard officer present.

At any time, the National Commander, Vice Commander and/or Adjutant can elect to defer to the State Society Color Guard Commander at a National event. If this is done, this decision is communicated to the State Commander and the National Commander, Vice Commander and/or Adjutant will still march at the lead of the unit with the State Commander.

The reason for this review of the adjutants function is that at recent National meetings and events, some Color Guardsmen have taken it upon themselves to supplant the leadership of the National Color Guard. They have described a route of march or placed the color guard in an area that they should not be in. These same guardsmen have even countermanded instructions given previously.

The result of this is that there is a great deal of confusion when the Commander, Vice Commander, or Adjutant begins to relay the actual information needed. It also causes a great deal of stress, especially at National meetings, when time is of the essence to get the color guard in order before they have to enter the room to either present or retire the colors.

While help is always welcome, please be sure that it is not the kind of help that is counterproductive as has been the case recently. The simple rule of thumb is that one of the National Color Guard leaders should always be asked what needs to be done before going and doing something.

On Sunday, February 15, 2015 the CASSAR Color Guard participated in the 33rd Massing of the Colors & Salute to Our Armed Forces at the Hall of Liberty, Forest Lawn Hollywood Hills in Los Angeles. The Massing is the largest celebration of Washington's Birthday in the West. The color guard was comprised of 30 compatriots from eight chapters of the California Society. Members of the Los Angeles Fife & Drum Corps, under the direction of compatriot Matthew Noell, accompanied the CASSAR Color Guard. Also in attendance were about one dozen additional compatriots and members of the CASSAR Ladies Auxiliary.

FLORIDA -

On March 7, 2015 the Brevard Chapter hosted the 9th Annual Celebration of the Last Naval Battle of the American Revolution at the Brevard Veterans Center on Merritt Island. It was a crisp and breezy day for the one hundred plus attendees - split evenly between parade participants and spectators.

SAR Chapters in attendance included: Brevard, Caloosa, Daytona-Ormond, Lake-Sumter, St Luci River, Tampa and Withlacochee. Brevard County DAR Chapters in attendance included: Abigail Wright Chamberlin, Brevard DAR Regents Council, Commodore John Barry, Indian River, and Philip Perry. Other DAR Chapters included: Arthur Irwin (DeLand), Lawrence Kearny Chapter (Cape Coral) and Winding Waters (Hernando County). Also participating in the parade were the Children of the American Revolution, Canaveral Light Chapter #2358 United Daughters of the Confederacy, Camp 1387 Sons of Confederate Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans and the Courageous Division Naval Sea Cadets.

The National Von Steuben Medal for Sustained Achievement in the NSSAR Color Guard

SAR Color Guardsmen who believe they qualify for the National Von Steuben Medal must complete the appropriate form, setting forth their qualifications. This form is available on the SAR website, and must be submitted to the State or District Color Guard commander for review and recommendation, and then to the National Color Guard Commander for final authorization to award the National Von Steuben Medal. A Guardsman must employ one of the following systems for earning the National Von Steuben Medal. The first system is based on points; the second system is based on the number of events in which a Guardsman participates. For complete information see the SAR.org web site, Compatriot Tab, SAR Handbook link, then Volume V, page 18.

Retroactive Effectiveness: SAR Color Guardsmen who were active at the time this Medal was approved by the NSSAR Color Guard Committee (July 2011), and who had previously been awarded the Silver Color Guard Medal, may count the points earned from attending any qualifying National or District Color Guard event if using the points system, or the actual number of events if using the events system, in which they participated during the two (2) year period prior to the NSSAR Color Guard Committee approval, or from the date they were awarded the Silver Color Guard Medal, whichever is more recent, toward earning the National Von Steuben Medal

National Color Guard prominent at Cowpens

The NSSAR Color Guard took center stage on Saturday, January 17, 2015 in Chesnee, SC as they once again presented the colors at the National Monument to begin the 234th Anniversary celebration of the patriot victory at Cowpens.

A new component to the ceremony was a review of the Color Guard by President General Lindsey Brock. This review was well received by those in attendance and gave the public an opportunity to take pictures of the Color Guard prior to the event.

President General Brock, Former Chaplain General Clark Wiser, Former National Commander Mike Tomme and Adjutant Mark Anthony then led the approximately 60 guardsmen. This group was one of the largest in recent years and required 3 ranks to fit everyone onto the plaza between the monument and visitors center.

The guardsmen were positioned to one side of the monument while the opposite side contained nearly 85 wreaths presented by various SAR, DAR, C.A.R, descendants and other heritage organizations.

Following the wreath ceremony, the NSSAR Color Guard led a procession onto the battlefield to the Washington Light Infantry Monument. This procession passed through the living history area where members of nearly a dozen reenactor groups presented arms as the National Colors passed along the nearly quarter mile route.

The Washington Light Infantry Monument is located near the location of General Daniel Morgan's second line of troops. It was the first monument placed on the battlefield having been placed approximately 65 years after the battle.

Prior to the placement of the NSSAR wreath by President General Brock, the NSSAR Color Guard formed an arch around the rear of the monument. After the wreath presentation, the Color Guard posed for pictures.

Following the conclusion of this ceremony, the Color Guard retired to Fatz Café in Gaffney for its traditional Dutch treat lunch and fellowship.

KEEP BLACK POWDER SAFE WHEN TRANSPORTING OR STORING

In a firing detail when possible, one person should handle and keep possession of the blank cartridges before handing the blank cartridges out to the participants. I know most of the Color Guardsmen in Indiana bring their own black powder loads and that is ok as long as it is only one round and you know that the loads are safe and are not overloaded. A good reason for one person handling the loads is that you can usually tell if it is sized up for a bigger bang.

Live loads should be kept in a non-sparking container, wood, leather or any non-sparking material. A special note here: if you are loading your paper cartridges at home, you need to clean up the fine dust left on the surfaces where you are working. Clean the area with a wet cloth or wet paper towel and then dispose of it in a proper waster container.

Now back to the container. I have made a wooden box with a lock on the door (see photo #1). Photo #2 shows the interior of the wooden box with a shelf which holds one can of powder and loading tools. In the bottom there is a wooden block made to accommodate 32 rounds, not that I would ever need that many. Note: do not store your flints in your power box. Now you are safe to transport your powder.

I will repeat again from a previous newsletter article. Do not put paper down the barrel of your musket. Throw the paper on the ground and then come back and pick it up and dispose of it properly.

Always think safety first. We all get a big bang out of firing our muskets!

From the Editor

Welcome to the resumption issue of the SAR Colorguardsman in its electronic format. This first issue will be short on some content due to the short time frame allotted for its April release. While this publication is only online, there is no limit to the number of pages. It can contain as many submissions as are deemed worthy. Therefore, all state societies are encouraged to submit color guard activity articles/photos for the "From the Field" section.

This Publication will focus on articles of interest to the Color Guard. This includes articles on (1) History, (2) "How To", (3) Events, and (4) Announcements.

Readers are encouraged to review past issues which can be found on SAR.org - Compatriots - NSSAR Committees - Color

Guard. Those past issues contain information helpful to all colorguardsmen. Some of these articles will be re-printed in future issues.

Some article submissions may be reviewed by the editorial staff before publication. Please send all submissions to the following contact points:

Displaying Streamers

From George Lipphardt, Tucson (AZ) Chapter

If the top of your SAR Flag Pole has the appearance of a bunch of loose-end strings, knotted together, due to the fact that you have been awarded a few Award Streamers, a streamer holder is designed to straighten out / organize all of these to make the flag pole much neater in appearance.

Holders are used by the military, the Scouts and other organizations that award streamers. It's basically a round, metal device that sets on top of your flag pole underneath the ornament. It has a round opening in the center to allow it to fit over the flag pole and openings around the outside edge to attach the Streamers in a nice, neat fashion.

Here are a few examples:

<http://www.paradestore.com/detail.aspx?ID=502>

<http://www.scoutstuff.org/bsa/gifts-gift-cards/flags/accessories/streamer-holder.html>

<http://www.flagsandemblems.com/aipr.html>

The more Streamers that need to be attached, the higher the price tag. A way to mitigate the cost is to attach multiple Streamers on each chain/attachment device. This allows for the purchase of holders with fewer slots which is cheaper. Since different Steamer Holders have different diameter mounting, center holes and different ways to attach them to poles, or if a specific-type pole is required, look for the "universal"-type mount that can fit different pole types.

Another issue is when there are streamers without a cord or chain to attach it to the holder. The Fair Publishing House, in Norwalk, OH (800-824-3247), where many societies purchase streamers, has gold cords that can be used for this. Ask for the 28", Gold Cord & Tassel which retails for $0.50 each plus shipping cost. Please be advised that these are not offered on their website.

Molly Pitcher Medal

Many women who are the wives, daughters, sisters, girlfriends, and other female relatives and companions of SAR Color Guardsmen routinely and with great dedication support their Guardsman and the SAR Color Guard. The Molly Pitcher Medal may be awarded to women who have supported the SAR Color Guard at the State, District and National Levels. The Medal is silver in color, and depicts a likeness of Molly Pitcher. It is available only in miniature. Its precedence is higher than NSSAR Specialty Medals, but lower than the Charter Centennial Medal. The Molly Pitcher Medal may be awarded only once; oak leaf clusters are not permitted.

Earning the Molly Pitcher Medal

A woman must be present at, and support, the SAR Color Guard at qualifying SAR Color Guard events. The same events that count toward earning the SAR Silver Color Guard Medal shall also count toward earning the Molly Pitcher Medal. In addition, participation in, and support of, State events, such as a State Society Annual Meeting or a State Society Board of Managers/Governors Meeting, shall also count toward earning the Medal.

A woman may be said to 'support' the SAR Color Guard by participating in SAR Color Guard events wearing Revolutionary-era attire, or by bringing refreshments for participating SAR Color Guardsmen, or by providing some other tangible support for her SAR Color Guardsman. However, merely attending an SAR Color Guard event shall not be deemed as 'support' for the purposes of earning the Molly Pitcher Medal.

Before a woman may be awarded the Molly Pitcher Medal, her husband or other male companion must have been awarded the SAR Silver Color Guard Medal. Women who believe they qualify for the Molly Pitcher Medal must complete the appropriate form, setting forth their qualifications.

This form is available on the SAR website, and must be submitted to the State or District Color Guard Commander for review and recommendation, and then to the National Color Guard Commander for final authorization to award the Molly Pitcher Medal.

State Society Color Guard Commanders

Confirmed state society color guard commanders are listed in the BOLD TEXT. Those state societies that are not confirmed are asked to submit updated data to the editor. State Societies with no Color Guard: Alaska, Dakotas, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Louisiana, Montana, Nebraska, Rhode Island, and Wyoming. It is with great pleasure that the NSSAR Color Guard announces that the Delaware Society has formed a Color Guard unit. Welcome to the NSSAR Color Guard.

Please note that any questions concerning potential color guard events or participation in events should be directed to the respective commander in the state where the event is taking place.

Each commander is emailed each new issue of The SAR Colorguardsman for distribution to the guardsmen within each state society. Any questions about the distribution of the new issue should be directed to the respective state commander.
