Vice Commander's Dispatch

Another year of color guard activity is drawing to an end with the 2017 Congress coming up in Knoxville. I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Commander Dave Hoover on the conclusion of his term as Color Guard Commander.

Under his leadership, the Color Guard has grown and increased its position as the most visible aspect of the SAR to the general public. No better example of this was the Color Guard photo after the Memorial Service at the 2016 Congress. I believe that the Color Guard attracted the attention of hundreds of Bostonians and visitors to that city resulting in members talking about the SAR for nearly two hours after the Memorial Service. Well done, sir.

I would also like to point out a new column that has been added to the list of approved events later in this newsletter. This column is entitled "Date Added." This date refers to the first time that specific event appeared in the Color Guard Handbook. This date should alleviate any confusion over when an event can be counted for credit toward earning a color guard medal.

With Congress coming up, I look forward to meeting a lot of new guardsmen. The Congress is truly an exceptional event.

Until then,

Mark C Anthony, Vice Commander

Ad Hoc Committee call for members

During the Spring Leadership meeting the Color Guard Commander authorized a small Ad Hoc committee to be formed to update and improve upon the rules regarding the safe handling and firing of our muskets and bring the resulting product back to the Color Guard Committee. Although the Color Guard Handbook addresses some safety issues, many of the "policy issues" are addressed within various issues of the SAR Colorguardsman. The task of this Ad Hoc Committee will be to consolidate and update any safety rules into the Color Guard Handbook. It has been my experience that when forming policy, it is best to have representatives with diverse experiences to assist in the writing. Therefore, I would like to ask anyone who is interested in participating to contact me at ocfamarkk@aol.com. We need to limit the size of this committee to approximately five members.

Respectfully,

Mark Kramer California State Color Guard Commander

Gen. Francis Marion Chapter

The Gen. Francis Marion Chapter commemorated the 237th anniversary of Buford's Massacre (Battle of the Waxhaws) May 27.

Chapter President and State Society Treasurer, Greg Ohanesian, organized the event, and served as master of ceremonies. In the May 29, 1780 battle, British Col. Banastre Tarleton and his mainly Loyalist troops overtook American Col. Abraham Buford and his Virginia regiment of infantry and a company of artillery, and while Col. Buford attempted to surrender, Tarleton's troops, in less than 15 minutes, killed 113 of Buford's soldiers and wounded 150. Fifty-three escaped.

"Tarleton's Quarter" became a rallying battle cry for Southern Patriots and led to Patriot victories at the battles of Cowpens and Kings Mountain, South Carolina, and Yorktown, Virginia, effectively ending the American Revolution.

2017 SAR Vigil at Washington's Tomb

Compatriots,

Here is the necessary information about the upcoming vigil at George and Martha Washington's Tomb. This event will be held on 16 September 2017 at Mount Vernon. Like before, we will meet at the Administration (Cunningham) Building at 8:00 am and walk down to tomb at 8:30 am sharp so that we have the first Color Guard in place at 9:00 am. Remember NO Muskets, Swords or other weapons are allowed. The watch will start at 9:00 am and change every 15 minutes (30 minutes depending on the weather and number of participants. the last shift will end at 5:30 pm if we have sufficient participation. Please consider coming this year and join us. I will again be asking those who are attending to please give me a time or times that they would like to stand watch at the tomb (Email: sarwashingtonvigil@gmail.com). I will try to make sure that you get the times you request.

On this map, notice the loop with the Main Gate off to the right near the top of the loop, and the forked road off to the left near the top of the loop. This forked road constitutes the parking lot for most tourists.

As you drive down the parking lot, you'll come across the Hearst Gate. This Gate will be closed. When you pull up, there will be an intercom. You may have to push the button, and someone will ask, 'May I help you?' Tell them you're here with the SAR to participate in the vigil at Washington's Tomb, and they will open the Gate for you. (The Gate swings out both ways, so don't pull up until it is open.)

Once you pull through the Gate, turn right. On the attached map, notice the area labeled 'Parking' near the Cunningham Building. We can't park there -- that's for Staff only. Before you get to this area labeled 'Parking,' there will be a field on your left. We will be allowed to park in this field.

Below is a listing of hotels in the area. I will NOT be reserving any rooms. I look forward to hearing from you and thank you for your time.

Color Guard

From the Editor

Welcome compatriots.

I want to thank all of the color guard Commanders and members who took the time to submit photos and content for this issue.

This issue has 12 state societies submitting color guard activity from the last 3 months. I'm sure that every state with a color guard, either at the state level or the chapter level, will have some Summer activities to report for the Summer issue. These Summer activities could include July 4th parades, battle site commemorations, or any of the other events listed elsewhere in this issue. I will look forward to having those state color guard commander absent from this issue submitting something for the Fall issue.

I was pleased to have content from some states submitting duplicate copies of the same content from different SAR members. This is a good thing in that members feel comfortable enough to send something in.

So that it will be easier for me to collect, compile, and format the issues in the future, let's review the preferred steps:

- Chapter color guard commanders, or a chapter officer, should submit their content to the state color guard commander for him to review and forward to me. This ensures that the state color guard commander is kept informed of chapter color guard activities - a Chain of command issue.

- The preferred method of submissions is by e-mail with attachments.
- Please do not embed photos into any document (WORD, e-mail, or PDF) - submit photos separately from accompanying document. Embedding a photo reduces the resolution and limits the photo size that I can use in this publication.
- Pictures should have accompanying them a list of those in the picture and who took it. Ex: 'Photo-img-1234 is of event X, with members X,Y, & Z. Photo by ABC'

When submitting content (photos and text) please consider this: The Colorguardsman is for spreading the news about color guard activities. Whenever your state or chapter color guard does something, that event information is what should be submitted. State or chapter presentations not involving the color guard are more appropriately submitted to the SAR Magazine. When compiling the issue, I look for and select those color guard activities over chapter non-color guard presentations.

Thank you for your help. Please forward this issue to your state's chapter color guard commanders for dissemination amongst their color guard members.

Students Still Learning at the CTSSAR Nathan Hale Schoolhouse (267 years later)

By Robert W. Rivard, CTSSAR

Under sunny skies and numerous caterpillars the Connecticut Line (CTSSAR Color Guard) held the 13th Annual School Day at the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse in East Haddam, CT on June 2, 2017. The schoolhouse is one of three properties owned by the CTSSAR. The others are the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse in New London and Gov. Trumbull's War Office in Lebanon.

The School Day was started in 2005 as part of the encampment to commemorate Nathan Hale's 250th birthday. This year there were 75 third graders and 16 adults from the East Haddam Elementary School. Students rotated around three different stations as follows:

- Dave Perkins & Derek Brockhoff – Life of a Revolutionary War soldier (including musket firing)
- Bob Rivard – Regimental Surgeon
- DAR docents (Sheila, Kris, Ruth, Jane and Wendy) – 1773 Classroom of Nathan Hale

Educational materials were distributed to students with the assistance of a grant from the Connecticut Society of the Cincinnati.

At the end of the ceremony, the Connecticut Line formed up with the NHSSAR and MASSAR Color Guard to fire a three volley salute.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, we and members of the NHSSAR and the MASSAR Color Guard placed wreaths at each of the four monument gates to honor those who answered the call from Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and at the United States Gate to honor all who served during the battle.

Connecticut Line members in attendance were Lt Col. Everything went very well, looking forward to next year.

240th-anniversary commemoration of the Battle of Ridgefield.

Crowds lining Main Street erupted in cheers as musket shots by a group of re-enactors kicked off the 240th-anniversary commemoration of the Battle of Ridgefield. The local militias moved down the street, exchanging fire with British troops led by an officer on horseback: the first skirmish in what would be an hours-long reenactment organized by the Masons of Jerusalem Lodge 49. After the first clash, the crowd rushed to follow as the army marched down a mile-long stretch of Main Street, stopping at two more spots to square off with the British.

The Battle of Ridgefield was fought on April 27, 1777, when American troops under the command of Generals David Wooster, Selleck Gold Silliman, and Benedict Arnold confronted British and Loyalist soldiers who had just destroyed American military supplies in Danbury. About 1,850 British and Loyalists were on their way back to what is now Westport after marching northward on the Black Rock Turnpike to Danbury. The event was presented by the Masons in honor of Gen. David Wooster, a fellow mason, who was mortally wounded while leading American troops in the battle. The weekend-long celebration also included three encampments, a parade, a black-tie gala and a series of educational programs at the Keeler Tavern Museum which still has a cannon ball from the battle imbedded in one of its walls.

About 100 re-enactors that participated came from Connecticut, New York and Rhode Island. Included in the encampment were members of the Connecticut SAR Living History Color Guard, with a total of 14 members skirmishing in either militia or British units that day.

Even though the British were successful in destroying American supplies and the confrontation in Ridgefield went into the history books as an American defeat, the battle had significant consequences for the rest of the war. The effect of the Battle of Ridgefield was that the British never again came inland to Connecticut during the rest of war.

Sons of the American Revolution Pass History on to the Library Organization Donates Book in Honor of Late Member Harold Marvin

HOMOSASSA, FL, May 16, 2017 – The Withlacoochee Chapter of the Florida Sons of the American Revolution paid a visit to the Homosassa Branch of the Citrus County Library System on Tuesday, May 16th to present the library with a history book in honor of their late member Harold “Hal” Marvin. During his tenure, Harold was a role model for the chapter, best known for the sincerity in his prayers, invocations, and counsel. The Sons of the American Revolution strive to educate others about the history of the United States by perpetuating the memory of those patriots who served in the American Revolutionary War. In keeping with this goal, the Sons of the American Revolution chose to donate a copy of The American Revolution: a Visual History to the public library, where it will be accessible for anyone to study. The organization selected the Smithsonian publication for its immersive imagery, which is aimed at enticing audiences of all ages to learn about the founding of our nation through pictures and manageable companion text.

Color Guard

In the military of the United States, the color guard (where the word color is referring to the national flag) carries the National Color and other flags appropriate to its position in the chain of command. Typically these include a unit flag and a departmental flag (Army, Marines, Navy, Air Force, or Coast Guard). In addition to the flag bearers, who are positioned in the center of the color guard, there are two or more individuals who carry rifles and or sabres. This is a symbol that the flag (and its nation) will always be protected.

Composition of the US color guard

In the U.S., traditionally, the unit's sergeant major is responsible for the safeguarding, care, and display of the organizational colors. The sergeant major is also responsible for the selection, training, and performance of the members.[1] The color guard consists of enlisted members and is commanded by the senior (color) Sergeant, who carries the National Color and gives the necessary commands for movements and rendering honors during drill exercises or parade ceremonies.[2]

Being assigned to the color guard is considered an honor due to the fact that these individuals present and carry the symbols of their unit and country. Depending on the circumstance and subject to the orders of their commander, members may wear full dress or less formal uniforms. It is mandatory for all members of the color guard to wear headgear, for example, a garrison cap, beret, or service cap. On occasion, certain color guards can be horse-mounted.

The US color guard is basically made up of:

- 1 Color Sergeant carrying the National Color
- 1 Unit or Command Color Bearer
- 2 Color Escorts

Manoeuvring

The color guard is formed and marched in one rank at close interval (shoulder-to-shoulder). Since the National Colors must always be in the position of honor on the right,[3] the color guard must execute a special movement to reverse direction. It does not execute rear march, nor does it execute about face. Rather, it performs a maneuver derived from the standard countercolumn command, generally known as counter march or colors reverse march, in order to keep the precedence of flags in order.

Other drill movements performed by the color guard include presenting arms, left and right wheel (turns) marches, eyes right (upon passing the reviewing stand during a parade), casing/uncasing the colors, and fixing/unfixing bayonets (by the arms bearers).

Rendering honors

By the color guard

The color guard renders honors when the national anthem is played or sung, when passing in review during a parade, or in certain other circumstances. In these cases, the unit and departmental flags salute by dipping (leaning the flag forward). However, with the exception of a response to a naval salute, the United States national flag renders no salute. This is enshrined in the United States Flag Code and U.S. law.

To the color guard

In the U.S. military, individuals or units passing or being passed by uncased (unfurled) colors render honors when outdoors. Individuals who are not part of any formation begin the salute when the colors are six paces distant and hold it until they have passed six paces beyond the colors.

Civilians are expected to stand at the position of attention with their right hand placed over their heart for the same period, and the salute applies to the uniformed organizations as well (especially the Scouts). Since recently, veterans are expected to salute the colors too, like their military counterparts including personnel not in uniform.

KANSAS

Lyman Miller and H. Dewey Fry were presented their Silver Color Guard Medals by Secretary General Larry Guzy at the Kansas Society Annual Meeting on March 11.

The Kansas Society Color Guard was active this spring. On Saturday April 22, the Kansas Society Color Guard led the parade at the 19th annual Patriot's Day Celebration in McLouth, Kansas. It is believed to be the only Patriots Day Celebration in Kansas.

On Saturday June 3, the KSSAR Color Guard marched about 1 ¼ miles on a very warm and humid morning in the 51st annual Old Shawnee Days Parade in Shawnee, Kansas. Shawneetown was incorporated on August 10, 1856 and was re-incorporated as Shawnee on June 10, 1922; Old Shawnee Days celebrates that heritage. The Color Guardsmen were from three different chapters. The parade lasts approximately 1 ½ hours with more than 90 entries viewed by more than 1000 street lining spectators.

In addition to presenting the colors, the color guard is available for the new citizens, and others, to have their pictures taken with them.

On June 8, the Kansas Society Color Guard presented the colors at a conference of the Kansas Judicial Branch of approximately 300 judges in Topeka, Kansas. After we exited the room after posting the colors, Chief Justice of the Kansas Supreme Court indicate his appreciation for the color guard presenting the colors; a standing ovation was given. NEVADA

Born Patriots Chapter

The Battle Born Patriots Chapter, formerly the N. Nevada Chapter, officially adopted its name change at a special "Boys Night Out" meeting in Carson City, Nevada on May 4, 2017. The name change reflects the state slogan, Battle Born, as depicted on a banner in the canton of Nevada's official state flag.

The chapter continues to present medals to the northern Nevada JROTC programs, and this year, Compatriot Jonathan Dickey presented the SAR Medal at the Incline Village HS, on May 25, 2017. This breaks a long standing record of non-resident presenters for SAR medals at the Incline high school, because Compatriot Dickey, as a new resident there, was able to give the award. In addition to his dual membership held with the Silicon Valley, California, chapter, he is a welcome new member to the Battle Born Patriots chapter.

On Memorial Day, at the Lone Mountain Cemetery, in Carson City, Nevada, the chapter's color guard rendered honors to our nation's fallen service members, by firing three musket volleys at the conclusion of memorial ceremonies. The color guard members, led by Color Guard Cmdr. Paul Hicks, included Rob Stoecklin, John Ryland, Gerry Miller, Mike Fitzpatrick, Mitch Hammond, and Roger Linscott.

Members of the chapter color guard presented the nation's colors at the official opening ceremonies of the Nevada State Fair and its living history venue, "Rendezvous", on June 8th. The chapter was invited to participate at this event by Noah Jennings, Curator of Rendezvous, and also a compatriot of the chapter. The grand opening included a ribbon cutting ceremony, performed by the mayor of Carson City, The Honorable Robert Crowell, who is also a compatriot of the Battle Born Patriots Chapter. The chapter members are looking forward to participating in future Rendezvous living history scenarios at the fair.

The US Army's 242nd birthday, and the simultaneous celebration of Flag Day, June 14th, saw the chapter's color guard participate in official observances held at the Nevada Veterans Memorial Wall, at the State Capitol grounds in Carson City. The event was coordinated by TSgt Emerson Marcus, USAF, on behalf of the Nevada National Guard, which hosted the ceremony. In honor of the flag, chapter members stood posted, flanking the display of a historic US flag. The flag is a museum exhibit, and was put on display for the audience, loaned by the Sparks, Nevada, museum for the occasion. This event featured notable speakers, including Nevada Army National Guard Brig. Gen. Zachary Doser, and SAR Compatriot, Carson City Mayor Robert Crowell, Capt., USN (ret.).

Day, Rendezvous and Flag Day events: Charlotte Miller, Janie Cattoor and Sharal Linscott).

Signers Chapter

The Nevada State Veterans Memorial, with its eighteen larger-than-life statues served as the backdrop for two new Signer's Chapter events this year on Patriots Day and Memorial Day. On Patriots Day members of Son of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution and expert Historical Reenactors assembled at the Statue of the American Revolutionary War soldier for a ceremony to remember that historic day. Presentation of Colors and Pledge of Allegiance was led by NV Society Color Guard Commander Gary Parriott. Compatriot and dual member (of the Signers Chapter) Joe Harris of Utah blessed the gathering and Katie Henzel of the Red Rock Canyon Chapter, DAR spoke of the events on the night of April 18th, 1755, events that preceded the battles at Lexington and Concord the next day - the first military engagements of the American Revolutionary War and the Lantern Signal "One if by land, two if by sea."

The Memorial Day Service began with a message from Color Guard Commander Gary Parriott. "Memorial Day, originally called Decoration Day, is a day of remembrance for all who have died in the service of the United States of America. Regardless of the exact date or location of its origins, one thing is clear – Memorial Day was borne out of the Civil War and a desire to honor our dead. It was officially proclaimed on 5 May 1868 by General John Logan, National Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic". Pastor Steve Willis of the First Christian Church blessed the gathering. The Pledge of allegiance was led by Color Guard Commander Gary Parriott. Charles Smith (NV Society Registrar-South) led the Veterans and Blue Star and Gold Star family recognition segment of the program. Each of these individuals was given a Ceramic Memorial Day pin. Paper American Legion Poppies were given to attendees along with copies of the Memorial Day Service program. Katie E. Henzel (Organizing President, William Boone Keith Circle, LGAR and Librarian, Red Rock Canyon Chapter, NSDAR) spoke of the origins of the Remembrance Poppy and the inspirational verse, "In Flanders Fields". She concluded by reading the first verse of "We Shall Keep the Faith" which was followed by the playing of Taps.

Compatriots dressed in their Revolutionary War uniforms were joined by Civil War and War of 1812 uniformed participants. Invited guest Mr. Burt Stevens, a Korean War Veteran, dressed in his original dress brown uniform. In addition to program participants, the following individuals are acknowledged for their much appreciated assistance, often behind the scenes that made this event possible: Ken Hill, Katie Henzel, Charles Smith and Al Conant.

pear on the calendars are included in the rows that are greyed out. Since the specific contact person can change frequently, the hosting state society or chapter is listed as the contact point. Compatriots wishing to get more details about a specific event are directed to contact the hosting state society or chapter. If a state or chapter wishes to have an annual event added, they need to contact the chairman of either committee.

Please note that dates are subject to change, so compatriots are encouraged to confirm the actual date with the hosting entity. This is especially the case with the Battle of Saratoga as the National Park Service has indicated that it is considering holding two separate events with one focusing on the American side and the other focusing on the British. This plan may change into just a single event. Please confirm with the Empire Society and/or NPS for final details as the initial September event date approaches.

The following criteria must be met to be considered as a National Historic Site & Celebration:

- A recognized battle or event of the Revolution must have occurred at or near the proposed location
- Established history of an event being held by a NSSAR Chapter or State Society
- Evidence of participation by multiple NSSAR State Societies or Chapters and other organizations at the event
- The history of the event that indicates that it will continue into the future
- A written packet of information prepared for distribution to the Committee in advance and to contain:
 - o Information about the battle or event
 - o Evidence as to why it is important that the event be considered of national significance
- In a state with no Revolutionary War battle or event sites, an explanation as to why the proposed event should be considered of national significance

As a note, the National SAR Color Guard Committee recognizes additional holidays and events so that individual members can more easily qualify for certain Color Guard medals.

 The Massing of Colors is now applicable to any such event held in any location across the nation. As such, a Massing of Colors can be held on any date and still be considered a National Color Guard event. The date for the original Massing of Colors in Burbank, CA is used above. With the new designation of the Massing of Colors, this event along with Fields of Honor/Healing Field, Memorial Day, July 4th, Veterans Day and Wreaths Across America are considered National Color Guard events without a single location at which the event occurs.

 As of 24 March 2017 ***
